From now on you will have a combination of subjects each week related to what we are doing in class.

There are many ways in which you can access the assignments. There is a copy on the main school website, the class site on the intranet pages, the year 6 class OneNote page on Office 365 and you could download them in school to a memory stick. If necessary, you can have a paper version printed for you in school.

You will find the answers by:

- Using the correct suggested methods, you might even want an adult to help you!
- Please ask if you need help!

Please show the written workings for each of these sums on paper, you can complete the homework in your red English revision books - this is where it will be marked.

Remember: If you’re stuck, you can always read the glossary sections of your punctuation, spelling and grammar SATs buster books!

Word Classes!

There are 7 main types of words that we have been learning about recently:

7. Article

1. Find at least one example of each word class in the extract from ‘Matilda’ below.

If you have forgotten what each type of word class is, look at the glossary on page 46 of your ‘KS2 English SAT buster Grammar book’.
Miss Trunchbull, the Headmistress, was something else altogether. She was a gigantic holy terror, a fierce tyrannical monster who frightened the life out of the pupils and teachers alike. There was an aura of menace about her even at a distance, and when she came up close you could almost feel the dangerous heat radiating from her as from a red-hot rod of metal. When she marched - Miss Trunchbull never walked, she always marched like a storm-trooper with long strides and arms as winging -when she marched along a corridor you could actually hear her snorting as she went, and if a group of children happened to be in her path, she ploughed right on through them like a tank, with small people bouncing off her to left and right. Thank goodness we don’t meet many people like her in this world, although they do exist and all of us are likely to come across at least one of them in a lifetime. If you ever do, you should behave as you would if you met an enraged rhinoceros out in the bush - climb up the nearest tree and stay there until it has gone away. This woman, in all her eccentricities and in her appearance, is almost impossible to describe, but I shall make some attempt to do so a little later on. Let us leave her for the moment and go back to Matilda and her first day in Miss Honey’s class.

After the usual business of going through all the names of the children, Miss Honey handed out a brand-new exercise-book to each pupil.

"You have all brought your own pencils, I hope," she said.
"Yes, Miss Honey," they chanted.
"Good. Now this is the very first day of school for each one of you. It is the beginning of at least eleven long years of schooling that all of you are going to have to go through. And six of those years will be spent right here at Crunchem Hall where, as you know, your Headmistress is Miss Trunch-bull. Let me for your own good tell you something about Miss Trunchbull. She insists upon strict discipline throughout the school, and if you take my advice you will do your very best to behave yourselves in her presence. Never argue with her. Never answer her back. Always do as she says. If you get on the wrong side of Miss Trunchbull she can liquidise you like a carrot in a kitchen blender. It’s nothing to laugh about, Lavender. Take that grin off your face. All of you will be wise to remember that Miss Trunchbull deals very very severely with anyone who gets out of line in this school. Have you got the message?"
